

Strategy Overview - First Quarter 2023

Innovators

Overview

The RMB Innovators strategy is a highly concentrated portfolio of 8-15 publicly-traded enterprise software companies which we believe are particularly well-positioned to capitalize on long duration growth opportunities. Holdings are purchased with a long-term (2-5 year) investment horizon, with anticipated annual turnover of 30% or less.

The strategy focuses on high-growth, emerging, small, and mid-capitalization software category disruptors seeking to gain share of a large and growing total addressable market. Priority is given to companies that we believe are demonstrating innovation and differentiation with regard to product development and/or go-to-market strategy. Emphasis is placed on exceptional leadership teams with a focus on founder-led / founder-engaged companies, i.e. owner-operators.

Description | The Innovators Strategy reflects the performance of fully discretionary equity accounts, highly concentrated of 8-15 publicly-traded enterprise software companies which we believe are particularly well-positioned to capitalize on long duration growth opportunities and for comparison purposes is measured against the Russell 2500® Software and Computer Services Index. The inception date of the Innovators Composite is July 31, 2022 and the Composite was created on July 31, 2022. Valuations and returns are computed and stated in U.S. Dollars.

ANNUAL PERFORMANCE RELATIVE TO STATED BENCHMARK

No performance due to insufficient data (less than 1 year since inception date).

Fees | Effective January 1, 2011, RMB Capital's management fee schedule for this Composite is as follows: 1.00% on the first $10.0 million, 0.85% on the next $10.0 million, and 0.70% over $20.0 million. Actual management fees charged by RMB may vary. Composite performance is presented on a gross-of-fees and net-of-fees basis and includes the reinvestment of all income. Gross-of-fees returns means it is net of transaction costs but gross of asset management fees and custodian fees. The payment of actual fees and expenses would reduce gross returns. The compound effect of such fees and expenses should be considered when reviewing gross returns. The net returns are reduced by all actual fees and transactions costs incurred. The composite includes accounts that pay asset-based pricing for trading expenses. The maximum fee is 15 basis points per year; however, many accounts pay lower amounts due to household break-point relief. In addition to a management fee, some accounts pay a wealth management fee based on the percentage of assets under management to RMB Capital. The annual composite dispersion is an asset-weighted standard deviation calculated for the accounts in the Composite the entire year. Risk measures presented are calculated using gross-of-fees performance. Policies for valuing investments, calculating performance, and preparing GIPS Reports are available upon request.

Minimum Value Threshold | There is no account minimum for the Equity Income composite.

Comparison with Market Indices | RMB compares its Composite returns to a variety of market indices such as the Russell 2500® Software and Computer Services Index. The index represents unmanaged portfolios whose characteristics differ from the Composite portfolios; however, it tends to represent the investment environment existing during the time period shown. The Russell 2500® Software and Computer Services Index measures the performance of the Software and Computer Services segment of the 2,500 smallest companies in the Russell 3000® Index in the U.S. equity universe. An investment cannot be made directly in an index. The returns of the index do not include any transaction costs, management fees, or other costs. The investment strategy and types of securities held by the comparison index may be substantially different from the investment strategy and types of securities held by your account in the Composite. Benchmark returns presented are not covered by the report of independent verifiers.

Other | Past performance is no guarantee of future performance. Historical rates of return may not be indicative of future rates of return.
